THE MEAT CARGO.

The letter from a New Zealander, newly arrived in the Plate, which we give at foot will be read with interest by all save the estanciero and sheepfarmer, who will learn to their amazed disgust that it depends upon them whether the export of frozen mutton from this country prove a successful trade or not.

We, for our part, return to Mr Innes our best thanks for putting the saddle on the right horse; and since we all know now how the New Zealand frozen mutton business is conducted, we await to see what action our millionaire estancieros and sheepfarmers intend to take to foment, develope and carry on this trade.

That our sheepfarmers and estancieros are not shareholders in either of the concerns now exporting their mutton we shall not dwell on, since we are free to say that perhaps they never had the chance to subscribe; but that not one in one thousand of them should to the present have taken sufficient interest in the business to go out to Campana, inspect the works, see the mutton, the process and the freezing steamer, is a sin of omission on their part which shows their low status, their inferiority to the New Zealand sheepfarmer.

Perhaps Mr. Sarmiento is right, and the education of these millionaires has been so much neglected that nothing more than reading and writing canbe expected of them; but our theory is that 4d. a pound for mutton for the million in Europe will change everything there, and we may look for new men with new minds coming out to this country shortly, men who will have the grit to work our estancias and sheepfarms on a better and a sounder system.

The sheepfarmers and estancieros can fatten in the year 100 wethers or who 20 novillos on alfalfa and hay to export to Europe are the class of men we now need in the Plate, and the fourpenny mutton in Smithfield will bring us these men. The New Zealand sheepfarmers, by clubbing together and shipping their own mutton to Europe, have raised the price of wethers in that New Zealand country from 8s. to 12s. each, and the Buenos Aires sheepfarmers if they choose to put their shoulders to the wheel, can do the same; but will they do it? We doubt it; first, because the estancieros and sheepfarmers of the Plate are as a class too well off; all their energy is pumped out of them by their prosperity, and the old "graseria" is far more suited to these men and to their flocks than the Haslam snow chests or the mutual export companies Mr Innes speaks of.

Argentine sheepfarmers and estancieros have become muttonized by the lethargic influence of a too rapid, a too easy success. Snoring away their lives behind flocks of sheep or "rodeos" of cattle, the world has moved on without them; a change comes, their productions are too rude, their jerked beef is all but useless, and their graseria tallow does not cover the cost of melting down. Are they equal to that change? Let time answer the interrogatory. We place the matter fairly before them all. The Rural Society has now a chance to prove its utility, its influence, its intelligence. We want a River Plate Mutton Export Company started in Buenos Aires by the mutton owners, the mutton producers. We have 100 millions of sheep in the Plate. Have we a hundred farmers to form the company?

Hotel de la Paz, Feb. 29.

Sir,

I have read in to-day's Standard your London Letter, re "Frozen Meat," and having just arrived here from New Zealand, where I was interested in the business of fattening sheep for the English market, I write to correct the mistake into which your correspondent has fallen, as to the expenses to the New Zealand producers.

The estimate of 3½d. per pound is rather high, 3¼d. being nearer the mark, but that does not include the price of the meat at all, but is made up of freight, 2d per lb; killing, freezing and shipping, 1d; commission, etc. in London, from ⅛d to ¼d.

The system in New Zealand is: the producers are the shareholders in the freezing company and have space allotted to them according to the number of sheep the ship is taking and the number of shares they hold. A practical butcher is the manager, and all sheep not up to the standard are rejected and sold in the local markets.

I am, Sir,
Yours, &c.,
H. Innes.

THE RECOVA.

Lord Mayor Alvear's letter to the Minister of the Interior, asking H.E. for the 150,000 pats. voted by Congress, and his further despatch to the Chairman of the Municipality, asking for permission to use the credit of the Board, or to mortgage some of the Municipal properties, to raise the balance of the sum needed to expropriate the old Recoba, are papers of deep instruction to the citizens

After a prolonged litigation between the Municipality and the owner of the Recova, Mr. Alvear states that it is probable, early in the present month, the case will be formally decided, and for this purpose he wishes to be ready with the money to pay the award. Nothing can be more honorable or more praiseworthy than the Lord Mayor's anxiety in this regard; but the public will, perhaps, consider that had he been less impetuous in knocking down the old Moorish arch, the delays now possible in raising the money would have been less inconvenient. For months and months this wrecked city arch has been one of the greatest Municipal eyesores, tolerated by a Latin or artistic public more on account of the law's delays than anything else. The whole state of the Plaza is simply deplorable, but this was attributed to the litigation about the shoemakers' shops which, since the last century, tenanted the Recoba. Now, however, that the lawsuit is over, the condition of the Plaza and the half-torn-down Recova will become doubly harrowing if, through the tightness of the money market, these eyesores are to remain untouched for the want of money to pay the landlord.

We join with the Lord Mayor in every line of his notes to the Minister and to the Municipal Board. Steps should be at once taken to have the money ready to liquidate the price of the expropriated property; for, if not, that ruined arch will stand the wrecked monument of the Municipal treasury, inspiring us all with the fears of bankruptcy and the gnawing apprehensions of increased taxation.

To rebuild that old arch would now be a task more difficult than even to raise the money to pay for the property, and surely there are not wanting Municipal capitalists who will advance the required sum to allow the Lord Mayor to throw down the shoemakers' shops, sweep the debris to the back of the Government House, and throw both plazas into one, to dub the Capital of the Republic with the finest square in all South America.

HURRAH FOR THE GRAN CHACO!

Monte de Nanducito,
Prov. of Santa Fé.

Dear Standard

Here on the borders of civilization, a very deep border, you must admit, 100 miles from a Post-office, 200 from a newspaper office, I avail myself of the chance offering of a wood-cutter's cart going to Esperanza Colony to write you these few hurried, scribbled lines.

From Esperanza to here, save a few scattered spots, the country is magnificent, not flat in the common acceptation of the term, but undulating, rolling plains, rich as the richest of the plains in the County Meath, and the climate bracing and invigorating. I am told that it is unusually hot, but here I am more vigorous than I have been for years. Living and sleeping in the open camp for 3 weeks, riding and working hard, I feel more springy then when I was in my teens. I expect to get out of the Gran Chaco in about six weeks, at Reconquista; go to Paraná, cross Entre Rios to Fray Bentos, then back to Rosario, up to Cordova, Mendoza and Tucuman and Salta, and back to Buenos Aires about April.

I can't help saying and writing that this country, and not North America, is the land for the honest, sober Irish farmer or labourer.

Yours truly,
Philip Callan.

ROSARIO.

(From our own Correspondent.)

February 29th.

It is curious to study the different phases through which the popular saturnalia of Carnival has passed in this country. How Carnival was first introduced into the Plate is probably not known. It was never generalized amongst the nations of Spanish origin, except in the island of Cuba. In Chile it does not exist, that is as a saturnalia, as in this Republic, and, even here, it is mostly confined to the Litoral, and I think the calebration of Carnival was first introduced into Buenos Aires and spread slowly to the provinces; but, even now, Carnival in the interior cannot be called a saturnalia. No such license is allowed as is common in the Litoral. In the interior Carnival is played with a certain discriminating respect for persons.

Carnival in Rome is unchangeable, so it is in Cuba; in both places the authorities have little to do, for the people follow traditional customs, which are recognized by every one, license extending to a certain point and then stopping. In this country, however, Carnival has become repugnantly gross. In the time of Rivadavia the lower orders played amongst themselves; respectably dressed persons might with safety walk the streets. The better classes played inside their houses with battles of essences, flowers, and such battles very often degenerated into a jolly combat with tins and buckets of water, that left the girls, as well as the men, drenched to the skin. The streets were left pretty much to the lower classes. In Rosas's time there was a change. It was the policy of that Argentine Nero to break down social distinctions. The plebs were allowed unlimited license, and encouraged to molest as much as possible the cajetilla, as people who wore good clothes were called. The good plebs were quick to profit by the license, and hence originated the use of eggs, bladders and paper bags of dirty water, rotten fruit, coloured powder, and filth of every kind. This soon became insupportable, even to Rosas, who, with one stroke of his pen abolished Carnival. During the rest of his reign not a little nigger dared to squirt a drop of water in the streets. After the disappearance of Rosas Carnival was revived, but it contained much of the grossness it acquired in the time of the tyrant. Eggs, either natural or imitation, full of water that, as a rule, was not very nice, and water ad libitum, were the arms used for many years, and candour obliges me to confess that the fun was "fast and furious" in all ranks of society, the boys and girls enjoyed themselves infinitely more over a tub of water than they do now with the aristocratic pomito. In fact, it is my opinion the pomito will be the proximate cause of the death of Carnival in this country. We see it degenerating every year. The addition of the Corso scarcely keeps it alive. Carnival is really played now in the suburbs, and with buckets of water. What is there of Carnival in a man squirting a few drops of water on a female he has never, perhaps, spoken to, and with a face as serious as if he was pouring forth a libation to the gods? Yes, the pomito will be the death of Carnival, and it will be a great pity.

It is very well for such old fogies as you, Standard folks, but for us of a younger generation, we yearn for a return of the old times, when we were bodily carried off by a half score of laughing and lovely damsels, with their drapery sticking as close to the body as the scales to a fish, and soused into a huge bathing-tub, as was done with Mr. Oroño on one occasion, when he was Governor; and, for all that, he was the best Governor we ever had. The Carnival of those days was a Bacchante, with loose hair and scanty raiment. The Carnival of to-day is a severe matron, with a long train and painted cheeks, who performs the Corso with a face as if she was going to a funeral.

Our wheat-growers last year made little fortunes; all their grain sold at very high prices, altogether too high, as it turned out, for the buyers made no money. The farmers, however, did not pay much attention to this fact but thought of nothing but widening and extending their wheat fields. It was a rivalry amongst neighbours as to who would get in most seed, and the consequence has been anything but profitable. The land was hastily and imperfectly cultivated, as a general rule. The old lands, which give a plentiful crop of weeds, were not ploughed at the proper time, and the weeds all seeded, and when the proper time came they choked up the wheat, and no peons were to be had to clean the great fields. The consequence was, in a great many instances, throughout the province, the yield was very small—seven or eight bushels to the acre. These fields of wheat and weeds were, of course, more difficult and expensive to harvest than clean fields. Then, again, when the waving expanse was acquiring a golden tint, filling the mind of the beholder with flattering expectations, the difficulty of labour cropped up. There was not a sufficiency of peons in the province to gather the big harvest, and the farmers had to bid against each other for hands, until as much as seventy Nationals a month was paid, with food, for workmen (£13 17s. 6d.) Only a very high price for grain, and an average yield, could cover such heavy expenses, and we have neither the one nor the other. The price of wheat is lower than it has ever known to have been. The wheat is warehoused, and the province will have a large surplus of excellent grain to export, but the farmer, in most cases, will have barely covered his expenses, and all through two much greediness. If, instead of throwing all his force into ploughing and sowing the largest possible breadth of land, he had properly cultivated a modest field, he would have been a wiser and a richer man.

Mr. Henry J. B. Kendall, of the well-known Liverpool and London firm of Kendall and Sons, arrived here from Chile, having crossed the Cordilleras at Uspallata. He returns to England in the Pacific steamer Patagonia. Speaking of the sugar production of the Pacific, a subject that should interest us, as we look on Chile as a future customer, Mr. Kendall tells me that there is a sugar refinery at Valparaiso, one of the largest in the world, which supplies the whole domestic consumption of the country. They buy their crude sugar from Peru, where, I am told there are sugar establishments equal to the best in Tucuman.

LONDON LETTER.

(From our own Correspondent.)

GENERAL NEWS.

Jan. 25th, 1884.

The fact is, there is little general or particular news by this steamer. We cast our eyes over the telegrams from Cairo and see that General Gordon has arrived at Port Said, and that not finding the road from Souakim safe, he goes to Cairo and thence to Khartoum. For the twentieth time we hear, again, that a large portion of Hicks-Pasha's army is safely encamped to the South of Obeid, at Lake Rahad. It is supposed that this force is the reserve that was not engaged in the action, or as some say, the main body of the army which General Hicks left behind when he went on to make a strong reconnaissance with his staff when he was attacked at Melheis. This last report of the safety of a large part of the Egyptian army is, we are told, not believed by the Minister of War at Cairo. We hear also that the Austrian officer's servant who survived the massacre of Hicks' men is now in high command in the Mahdi's army. Perhaps this is the officer who was mistaken for a Frenchman by our Parisian friends.

The coming question at home is the Reform Bill, and some of us who lived long read with a sickening sensation the old rubbish about fagot voters, pot-wallopers and 40 shilling freeholders. The speeches in regard to the proposed extensions of the franchise which have just been made by Sir Stafford Northcote, Mr. Gibson and Mr W. H. Smith; those of the last two, at Dublin, are in a very hopeful and triumphant tone, and the question of the redistribution of seats is becoming very important to the Government, and has, no doubt, occupied the attention of two Cabinet Councils which met yesterday and the day before. It is the old question of the disfranchisement of particular "interests" in favour of population or of general or average interests. Mr. Gladstone and even Mr. Shaw-Lefevre seem to have made up their minds as far as we can discover at present that the country is not yet ripe—the old phrase—for a scheme of redistribution on the principle of population. But Mr. Gladstone may find that any extension of the franchise without a radical reform of the distribution of seats may rather favour the Conservatives, who are of the same opinion; and this added to the objections even amongst Whig members of the Cabinet to extend the suffrage in Ireland without keeping the distribution of seats as it is at present in that country is a source of difficulty, and even of danger, to the Gladstone administration, as the Radical party are already showing signs of disaffection. The Radicals know that if Mr. Gladstone again temporises on this question, he may as he did before overturn his party, but under a Conservative Government a more sweeping measure may be obtained for reasons that are obvious and occur again and again in our political history. The Conservatives in power get frightened at the growing discontent they create, and, forced into reforms, they have the whole House with them, with the exception of a few timid members of their own party, and can therefore pass what liberal measures they choose. The present is Mr. Gladstone's last chance of proving himself to be the "Great Statesman" his friends think him and proclaim in servile and fulsome language. The real moving power in Britain is now far beyond the questions of 40 shilling free holders and "interests." Mr. Gladstone's hesitation is looked upon with disdain. Party politics are beginning to run into angry personalities, which is a bad sign, and an unusual sign in this country, and always precedes the mischief Mr. Gladstone would again ward off by compromise. However, between this and the opening of Parliament, and between this and to-morrow for that matter, there is plenty of time for Mr. Gladstone to change his mind, and as Lord Randolph would say, to insert a new "advertisement."

The Meath, now at Antwerp with the cargo of frozen meat from Campana, is expected in London every hour. Many are awaiting the result with great interest, as it is about time now that it should be proved and published abroad that in the question of frozen meat, you can undersell the British Colonies, and as your supply is practically inexhaustible you ought to win.

PARIS LETTER.

January 23rd

It is with feelings akin to relief that public curiosity finds occupation in animal magnetism, from the wearisome questions of Tonkin, Egypt, strikes, revolutionary meetings, and monarchical caucuses. Scientists have at last resolved to grapple with the phenomena of 'hypnotism,' a generic name for the conduct of persons affected with hysterical epilepsy. A navy doctor, Brémand, of Brest, was selected to make a report as to what science actually knew of the strange mesmeric experiments at present so extensively exhibited by charlatanism. Dr Brémand's experience of every part of the world, as he has just stated before a reunion of medical and scientific authorities, leads him to this conclusion; there are individuals perfectly healthy in body and mind, but susceptible of being thrown into the hyponitic state, namely, of lethargy, catelepsy, and sonambulism, similarly as persons suffering from hysteria and epilepsy.

These stages are gradual: with the hysterically predisposed, fascination precedes lethargy, where the patient becomes, between the hands of the operator, a simple automaton, unconsciously obeying every impulsion. The second stage, easily produced, is the lethargic, next muscular contraction or catalepsy. The last stage is sonambulism, where the faculties acquire an extraordinary power. The lecturer stated he had patients in a state of sonambulism, seated beside his study fire, who were able to hear two persons speaking in a low tone to each other, in the street, a distance of 55 yards. Another patient resolved a trigonometrical problem that he did not comprehend before being thrown into the sonambulic condition, and that he could not resolve on being awakened. Illustrations were given of subjects obeying all the whims and oddities the doctor required of them.

Next a prism was placed before their eyes, when they recognised the two figures, that which proved there was no hallucination. Next, by placing a screen between the two eyes, a comic and a frightful picture were presented to the subject, with the result of one-half of his face displaying joy, and the other contracted from terror. Thus we are in presence of the annihilation of will, of self; of the disjunction of functions whose union constitutes ordinary mental life; of states of insensibility, of rigidity and of lethargy, where life itself seems to disappear, and of augmented excitation of the nerves, where the muscles, senses and certain intellectual faculties attain an extraordinary development.

The doctor lays no claim to producing new facts; certain people can be unconsciously magnetised, and seem to like that situation. He does not believe in nervous or magnetic fluids: physical agents suffice to produce the phenomena; the operator counts for nothing. Thus the admission of a ray of light entering an obscure room and striking the eyes of a predisposed individual, will induce hypnotism. The Dr. confesses he has no theory to broach; science has no explanation to offer, but he recommends the study of the phenomena over as wide a field of observation as possible.

An Income Tax, that sound unpleasant to the Volscians' ears, is in the air. The Minister of Finance sees no other way of raising the wind but by a new, or increased taxation. He swears by all the Gods of Olympus, that no new offices shall be created, and the functionary who dares to memorialize for an addition to his salary, will be served with a notice to quit.

The Government, the Municipality of Paris, and a few newspapers, have been inquiring into the prevailing distress among the working classes. The conclusion is, that the misery is very real. It is gratifying to find that the unemployed do not belong to the Anarchists. But what is less satisfactory, no one can indicate a solution. One of the leading builders of Paris states, two years must elapse ere the building trades come right again. The Ragpickers are likely to be made happy; the authorities will afford them more time to root among the dust-boxes of house-holders before the contents be carted away.

One of the most striking proofs of the progress of Parisians, in taking an interest in matters outside the fortifications, is the dispatch, by a metropolitan journal of a live special correspondent to Tonkin, to the seat of war. Perhaps there is truth in the general observation, that Parisians having been indifferent about Colonies, may explain why France displayed but little interest heretofore in the matter. When Voltaire observed, the loss of the Canadas represented only a few roods of snow, he expressed the feelings of Parisians. The writer in question denounces the Suez Canal as very ugly; but its utility? Its importance must be estimated by the shipping passing through, as Herodotus, to impress us with the vastness of the Great Pyramid, supplies the quantities of onions consumed by the workmen in its construction. Port Said, it appears, is nothing but a gigantic European brothel, tempered with a 'money or your life' male element. Suez is the Arabian Cythera. The stokers of the packets when passing through the Red Sea have the slenderest of fig-leaf toilettes, and the place where the bad niggers go to ought to have no secrets for them, should it be their fate ever to be sent there.

M. Massenet, the composer of the operas the "Roi de Lahore," and "Herodiade," has now a fresh success in his "Manon." It is to be regretted that he did not bestow his talent on a more fitting subject than the old—153 years of age, green novel of the Abbé Prevost. It is the trite story of unchaste and impudent women appealing for sympathy to the society they outraged, for the natural punishment of their misconduct, lingering, neglected, and ignominous death. All the spare time and help we have ought to be devoted to virtue in rags. Passionate love does not beautify corruption. Manon Lescaut was a beautiful young girl, of a private family, on her way to a Convent school; at Amiens, where the "diligence" changed horses, she encountered a Chevalier Desgrieux; they no sooner saw but they loved—and eloped. Subsequently they came to Paris, Desgrieux living with, but always intending to marry Manon, his mistress. Desgrieux was arrested by his father, and sent to the Seminary of St. Sulpice to be educated for the church: Manon became a demimondian, till discovering the whereabouts of Desgrieux, she found her way, as a penitent to make her confession, to the Seminary, and abducted the young priest. The unfortunate couple led a wandering life, finding in the lower deep a lower still; he was imprisoned for gambling; she was transported as a prostitute, and ultimately the beautiful sinner expired on the sands at Havre, in the arms of Desgrieux who had organized a rescue. Halevy and Scribe attempted, unsuccessfully, to set the story to music. Massenet has been more fortunate. The music is written with great elegance, and is attractively curious from many novelties in point of operatic treatment. It is a continued exchange of melody between the orchestra and the artistes, full of unexpected modulations; grave, soft, and poetical. The best songs are those executed by Manon and Desgrieux on their first meeting; then the duet in the Seminary, the gambling house, and her death—the latter did not succeed as a hit, as in the "Dame aux Camelias" and "Froufou." Madame Heilbron and M. Tolazoc, interpret the music absolutely perfect; as in the novel, so in the opera, there are only two roles. Massenet in his earlier days was a Wagnerian, and subscribes still to that composer's natural or scientific ideas, in principle. Massenet aims to surround his characters with their special lyrical and dramatic atmospheres; each has the music peculiar to their roles; thus Manon has hers, gay and melancholy—local, dare it be said—human! One of the librettists is Meilhac, but who detests music like Theophile Gautier, who held the only difference between ordinary noises and music was, the latter was the most wearisome and costly.

ADDITIONS TO THE NAVY.

Official returns state that during the past twelve months fourteen vessels were launched for her Majesty's navy, twelve vessels were ordered to be constructed and in most cases were commenced, and that at the present time there are, in addition to the number just mentioned, seven others on the stocks, which were under construction prior to the commencement of last year. The vessels now being fitted for service include three double screw second-class steam cruisers, each to carry ten guns, of 3,750 tons each, with engines of 5,000 horse-power, named respectively the Amphion, Arethusa, and Leander; two single-screw composite corvettes, with 12 guns, and each of 1,420 tons and 950 horse-power engines, named the Rapid and Royalist; two screw composite gun-vessels, the Dolphin and Wanderer, each to carry three guns, of 925 tons and 750 horse-power engines; three screw composite gun-boats, each to carry four guns, of 560 tons, and fitted with engines of 650 horse-power named respectively the Albacore, Mistletoe, and Watchful; a 16-gun screw corvette, the Calypso, built of steel and iron, cased with wood, of 2,770 tons, and 3,000 horse-power engines; a 10-gun steel twin-screw armour-plated barbette ship, the Imperieuse, of 7,390 tons, and with engines of 8,000 horse-power; a double-screw steel armour-plated barbette ship, the Collingwood, designed to carry ten heavy guns, of 9,150 tons, and 7,000 horse-power engines; and a 7-gun paddle composite vessel, named the Sphinx, of 1,130 tons, and supplied with engines of 1,140 horse-power. The vessels now in progress, some of which are in a forward state for launching, include a 16-gun screw corvette, built of steel and iron, cased with wood, of 2,770 tons and 3,000 horse-power engines; a 14-gun screw composite corvette, of 1,420 tons, with engines of 950 horse-power, three twin screw steel armour-plated barbette ships, each of 9,600 tons and engines of 7,500 horse-power, to carry 10 guns each; a similar vessel, but of less tonnage—namely, 7390 tons but with engines of greater horse-power—namely, 8,000; and a 10-gun double-screw steel second-class steam cruiser, of 3,750 tons, with engines of 5,000 hores.power.

EDITOR'S TABLE.

Let no man who values his best hat don it to-day, as there will be lots of water-throwing to celebrate the burial of Carnival. Let all decent people hope that this may be the last time we shall witness the silly ceremony in this city, and that before next year comes round, Congress, the Municipality and Public Opinion will take effectual steps for the total abolition of Carnival in every shape and form.

Paradoxical as it may seem, the Frozen Meat Question is causing a heated discussion. Already the faineants declare that the new trade will never do in this country. This is the old miserable whine. It can and ought to do, and do splendidly. We must make it do, if there is an ounce of go in the country. If not, the go must be imported. There is lots of it in the United Kingdom and the United States, to say nothing of Australia.

The rain on Friday was a mere flash in the pan, and yesterday was hotter than ever. The Java earthquake and the "glorious sunsets" have a deal to answer for.

There is very depressing news from La Plata. The recently appointed Mayor and Corporation of that city "in posse" pass their days with their hands in their pockets and cigarettes in their mouths, as they have nothing to do, and no money. After all, perhaps this state of impecuniosity is all the better for the tax-payers, so many millions of whose cash have already been swallowed up in the new capital. The Legislature is the next Provincial institution doomed to remove to La Plata, and the faces of the law-makers of the province are getting long by degrees and beautifully blue at the dismal prospect before them.

The news of the Mahdi having been whipped causes great satisfaction. There seems to be a difference of opinion as to whether the troops that have beaten him are really English troops, as no telegram has yet come announcing the arrival of British regiments at the scene of action. A day or two will throw light on the subject.

What is jocosely styled an election of Senators and Deputies of the province is announced to come off on the 30th of this month, Sunday. It is an open question whether the old style of electioneering, with lots of killed and wounded on the polling day, was not preferable to the present official way of doing things.

An Italian woman named Angolina Minoletti died the other day in the Italian Hospital, in abject poverty, although she was once rich and gave large sums to the institution where she breathed her last. Strange to say, her husband, a mechanic, died one hour after her, and their remains now lie side by side in the Chacarita Cemetery.

There is no doubt about it. Banda Oriental has recovered rapidly under the vigorous government of General Santos and the financial direction of Dr. Terra. The Montevidean Custom House yielded 600,000 pats. in Feb. (a short month, and including Carnival) the largest receipts it has given in one month for many years.

The banquet to Drs D'Amico and Cardoso at the Coliseum on Friday night was a very grand affair indeed. The 'menu' was fit for the Czar of Russia or Chinese Gordon, and the profusion of handsome wax light candelebra on the tables had a very pretty effect, but made the place as hot as the Black Hole of Calcutta. The speeches were not too numerous or long, and the party broke up at 10 o'clock, a very discreet hour. If Governor D'Amico means to eat as many public dinners as Gov. Rocha has done, before and since he took office, we strongly recommend H. E. to invest in a Holman's Liver Pad, by way of precaution.

An instance of the audacity that Carnival begets took place in the first two days of the Saturnalia. In the midst of the High Life maskers in Dr. Senillosa's house were two whose gait and general appearance excited suspicion, and the manner in which they devoured their supper was also subject of remark. On Monday night they returned and acted in a similar way. On Tuesday they tried it again, but were turned away, Dr. S having discovered in the mean time that his unbidden guests were two Italians of the very lowest class. The wonder is that the swell-mob have not availed of the mask to carry on their operations.

A young gentleman named Mendez was arrested the other day by a highly intelligent policeman in mistake for a pickpocket of the same name, and who is about as like him as chalk is like cheese. The "highly intelligent" should be sent to some other employment. It is fortunate for him that he did not make that mistake in England.

The Archbishop's Lenten Pastoral is read to-day in all the city churches.

Energetic Journalism.—The Coggleton-cum-Babbedom Times said of a neighbouring paper: "The Star often gets into water too deep for it." Whereupon the Star responded as follows: "Possibly, but the Times editor will never run the same risk, as he never uses any water, externally or internally. He had better do so while he can, for by-and-bye he will go where there is none. We have often said that the editor of the Observer ought to be kicked to death by a jackass, and we hope the editor of the Times will be the one to do it."

Mr Ernest Quesada's New Review for March was given round yesterday. It is fully up to its usual high mark—splendid articles from all its best contributors.

An awful accident occurred yesterday morning in Conceicao's almacen at the corner of Calles Mayo and Piedad. The floor of the cellar gave way, and two shopboys who were arranging a beer-machine fell through into an old cesspool. Mr Conceicao, who was in the shop at the moment, rushed for a rope, let it down, and pulled up one of the young fellows; the other perished, and the corpse was taken out an hour later, the features being awfully distorted by the agonising death from mephytic poisoning.

A poor 'changador' was shot down yesterday in broad noon day, in the open street, by the second Commissary of the war-vessel El Plata. One bullet went through his chest, and he is not expected to live. The affair took place opposite Corti Riva's shop in Calle Mayo.

A Wicklow advertiser informs his customers that he alters their furs to suit the fashions as follows: "N.B. Capes, victorines, etc., made-up for ladies in fashionable style out of their own skins."

"President Roca at Home" in yesterday's Tribuna Nacional, gives pleasing glance at the homely country life of the Chief Magistrate in Cordoba, with all the cares and pomp of State flung to the winds. The picture coincides exactly with what we heard last year from Mr. and Mrs John Fair, who paid President Roca a visit in his Cordoba home. The President looks like an estanciero, and wont let a soldier or a policeman within a mile of him while his vacation lasts.

The "Flores Parish Magazine" is very interesting this month. We strongly recommend it to our readers, especially Dr. Mackern's paper on "The Use and Abuse of Water".

Patching it Up.—"I have come in to kill you," said a man entering an Arkansas newspaper office, drawing a revolver and confronting the editor. "You published an article derogatory to my character, and it is my duty to shoot you. As sure as I'm an Arkansas man, I'll do it. We fellows, you see, don't stand this sort of thing from you New Yorkers. I'll kill you." "I am glad of it," the poor editor replied, reclining in his chair; "I was thinking of committing suicide." The answer was so different to what the Arkansas man expected that he paused, rubbed his nose, and then as if seized with a bright idea said, "Well, if that's the case, let's go down and have something." And the two deadly enemies went out together. And yet some people are in favour of teetotalism.

Quite a surfeit of amusement is to be provided for the gay and festive this winter. Every one of our many theatres has been contracted up to the end of November. The "Teatro Ingles" will, of course, be "de moda" and High Life will patronize it largely as before. The season lately held has done much to dispel the notion apparently prevalent among Argentina's fairer ones that nothing not French could be any good, histrionically speaking—and many are now ready to assert that for naturalness and quiet unassuming "sincerity of purpose" in acting, the English actors bear away the palm. They are not for ever sobbing and groaning like Spanish actors, nor do they indulge in the meaningless superflous gesticulation so prevalent among the French, and whilst possessing like all others many bad qualities, try to correct or suppress them, an example which might with advantage be followed by their colleagues of other nationalities. The coming season promises to be a far greater success than even the last one as Mr. Latham intends to secure ample time for his arrangements, and to launch his season with the most complete organization obtainable.

A wit will have his joke, even at the expense of his gallantry. It was Lord Houghton who, when a lady, more beautiful in her own eyes than in those of the world, was boasting that she had had hundreds at men at her feet, remarked, in an undertone, "Chiropodists."

A lot of young idiots, who got themselves up in masks and black dominoes on Friday night and sallied into the streets for a lark, were all pounced on by the police and locked up for the night. Served them right.

"Now, boys" said the teacher, "I need not tell you anything further of the duty of cultivating a friendly disposition, but I will tell you a little story about two dogs. George had a nice little dog, that was gentle as a lamb. He would sit by George's side quietly for an hour at a time. He would not bark at the passers-by or at strange dogs, and would never bite anybody or anything. Thomas's dog, on the conrary, was always fighting other dogs, and would sometimes tear them quite cruelty. He would also fly at the hens and cats in the neighbourhood, and on several occasions he had been known to seize a cow by the nostrils and throw her. He barked at all strange men who came along, and would bite them, unless somebody interfered. Now, boys, which was the dog you would like to own—George's or Thomas's?" Instantly came the answer, in one eager shout—"Thomas's!"

CARNIVAL.

Suipacha, Feb. 29.

Dear Standard,

Your remarks on Carnival in yesterday's issue have led me to reflect on the number of persons who of late years take the opportunity of retiring to the country at that time, principally to escape the noise and turmoil of this remnant of barbarism. To many it is, unfortunately, a case of "jumping from the frying-pan into the fire," only it is water, not fire, that is the element in question; for often outside the city you are drenched with buckets of water, and not with the sweet-scented contents of "pomos." But there are sequestered spots, even in this Republic, where one can retire from this saturnalia.

There is a modern "Auburn" in Suipacha, where, at Mr Weber's Hotel, we had the pleasure of meeting one of the greatest benefactors of this country, viz., General T. O. Osborn, our hearty American Minister, and his friends, Mr. Consul Baker's family and Professor W. Martin.

Seeing the Stars and Stripes waving over Mr. Weber's house, we inquired the cause, and learning who were the distinguished arrivals, we made bold to introduce ourselves, and—need we say?—received a most cordial welcome.

For three days we were driven about the country, had some very good shooting, and met with the warmest reception in more than one estancia house in the neighbourhood.

At Gahan's, Maguire's and Clavan's we were treated like princes; and at one of Mr. Thomas Duggan's country residences at "Leones" a breakfast was served up to us that would have done justice to the Café Paris. At parting we were loaded with fruits and regaled with Havanna cigars.

The pith of these lines, dear Standard, is: if you want to escape Carnival next year, follow the example of one you know well, but who must remain to the outside world as that unknown quantity.

X.

SHROVETIDE, OR CARNIVAL.

Buenos Aires March 1st 1884.

To the Editor of the Standard.

Dear sir,

I think your correspondent "Spectator" errs in assuming that the tomfoolery of shrovetide is limited to the countries of the Latin race. I myself remember, as a child, in Staffordshire and in Shropshire, that the servants of the estate, we children, and the clods of the neighbourhood, were in the habit of having a good deal of very rough horse play at shrovetide. Water throwing was part of the fun too, I remember, and it was etiquette to take everything that happened in good part.

This was followed by the invariable procession of all the boys of the village coming round, singing:

A shrovin', A shrovin'
I' ve come a shrovin,
A piece of bread, a bit of cheese
A slice of your fat bacon:

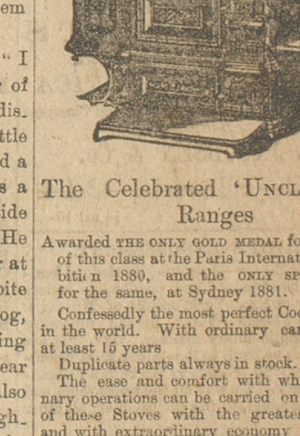

followed by other verses containing delicate hints about beer, chorus always taking up the refrain:

A shrovin, a shrovin, we' ve come a shrovin.

Generally the boys got bread and cheese, cakes, and beer—sometimes money was given. If they got nothing they would dance a sort of a war dance in front of the house; throw things at the door; use language more forcible than polite; or, failing to have a wit among their number, they would fall back on the good old low-life repartee of putting out their tongues and saying 'ugh.' Which last salute naturally chafed the temper of the recusant householder. The meaning of the rough horse play, I opine, is to give people an opportunity of exercising the virtues preached in the collect, epistle, and gospel of Quinquagesima Sunday; which, as far as I remember, teach one to "suffer long and be kind;" not to be "easily provoked;" to "bear all things." While the gospel alludes to the evil mocking and spitefully entreating of the Saviour. I cannot verify my allusions to the collect, epistle and gospel, not at the moment having a Book of Common Prayer near me. Nor can I trust entirely to my memory; for it is many years since I heard this particular collect, epistle and gospel—the Anglican Church of St. John having practically abolished the observance of Quinquagesima Sunday.

Yours truly,
Anglican.

IMPORTANT NOTICE—Every bottle of our imports of these brands bears our Red and White label.

Parry & Co.

Beg to caution the public that the Trade Marks of many of the Firms they represent are Pirated, and by this means Spurious and Worthless goods are foisted on purchasers, instead of the Genuine articles.

The Sham labels are wonderfully well got up to fulfil their nefarious mission.

Some of them bear a forgery of manufacturer's signature, others have apocryphal signatures, one or two letters being altered in so artistic a manner as almost to defy detection. Whilst many bear No Name whatever, but in general appearance closely resemble authentic labels.

We are determined to spare no efforts with a view to stopping the nefarious and dishonest practice of RE-FILLING EMPTIES, which is carried on to a shameless extent. This not only ruins the reputation of articles which are nutritious and conducive to good health, but the adulterated and unwholesome substitutes poison the blood and develope disease in those who consume them.

The following are some of the most notable instances in which this audacious swindle is commonly perpetrated, viz:—

TEAS

Those who re-fill with inferior mixtures the empty boxes bearing our registered brands of FINE TEAS, do so generally at the bottom, leaving the lid and top lead intact, so as the more readily to deceive purchasers.

Stout, Ale, Brandies, Hollands, Angostura, Lea & Perrins' Sauce, Clarets, Ports, Sherries, Schnapps, Whisky, Rum, Old Tom, &c.

Very many who despatch drinks by the glass buy the genuine articles, and after using the contents of one or two bottles (leaving the remainder of their purchase on the shelf for adornment and to induce the belief that they deal in first class goods) re-fill them as required with CHEAP, and often, obnoxious substitutes.

There are others WHO MAKE A TRADE of collecting empty bottles and cases of the articles enumerated, which are then used for putting up spurious and deleterious mixtures to be foisted on the public as legitimate productions.

We are at all times ready to give information to dealers who may be in doubt as to the legitimacy of any article purporting to be the product of any of the manufacturers whose attorneys we are, and whose Trade Marks we have registered.

ON 'CHANGE.

March 1st, 1884

Cedulas A	100
Cedulas E	87⅞
Cedulas F	84⅞
National Bank Shares....	125⅝

The market opened this morning cool as possible after the hot and heavy business of yesterday's liquidation, which for some shows very handsome profits, but as a rule the profits and losses were small, and the enormous sales of shares on some of the evenings during the month had no effect whatever on the market. Cedulas opened to-day with a much firmer tendency, and they say that the bears have done their worst and the market is now in the hands of the bulls. National Bank Shares have a very springy appearance now that the squeeze of the month is over. To-day the shares and certificates were handed into the Bank, and on Monday the dividends will be paid. There are some very large holders in this market, as we saw very large lots handed in by parties, each lot representing several thousand shares.

There was great talk on 'Change about the article in to-day's Pampa, respecting the large amount of fresh money that came on the Bolsa yesterday to pay for shares, and where the money came from. We think our colleague forgets the heavy amounts of exchange passed in these days, and which brought out money from the banks. Moreover, the speculators in shares willingly paid 1½ to carry the stock for a month, and this found much money for the business.

It was said on 'Change that next week all the private banks will begin to discount, as they are full of money.

The heat on 'Change to-day was excessive, and even the oldest brokers say that they cannot remember a summer stretching out so long as this; the rain yesterday was general throughout the camp, and we have letters from the far South, where it has rained in torrents.

The following were the sales at the ring during official hours:—

Mr. Byrne, of Montevideo, was welcomed; also Mr. Michaelson, of Montevideo, and Mr Beer, of Manchester. The town is filled with strangers, and we welcome to the Plate Messrs Learmouth, Mair, McGargill, Anderson, Musgrave, O'Grady, Musgrave jun., Geddess and David, and others.

Our remarks on the meat cargo in to-day's issue have given rise to much comment, and some parties think we are too severe on the estancieros and sheepfarmers, but we cannot retract a line. As a body, the estancieros and sheepfarmers are really nil in our community, exercising no influence even in the very partidos where they reside. It is all very well to talk of improving the breeds of sheep and cattle, but the country is about to take a new departure, and the frozen mutton question is destined to improve the class of estancieros and sheepfarmers. Mr. Newton, who has returned from Australia, has called at our office to-day and stated that we may soon look forward to the arrival of Australian and New Zealand sheepfarmers by the hundred in the Plate, as this country is far cheaper and possesses many great advantages over others. What the Plate wants is more intelligence and more enterprise in the cattle and sheep business; and the New Zealanders will bring us all those great reforms which will enable us to export clean wool, ship fat mutton to London, and 'carnear' on the estancias without the aid of five peones and five recados.

The Bahia Blanca Saladero Committee held their meeting last night, and it stands adjourned to Tuesday night. The following gentlemen compose the Committee:—Messrs. Cambaceres, S. Gomez, E. Casey, J. J. Sanchez, Martinez and Leloir. At last, something is about to be done. We hope to see them ship frozen mutton yet from Bahia Blanca.

The R.M.S. Tagus took home in her last trip 300 frozen capones. They were put on board alive by Mr. Evans, of Montevideo, and killed, cured and frozen on board. We hear all the R.M. steamers will have the Haslam chamber on board for a capacity of 300 capones.

Messrs. Peake & Co of Rosario are before the Santa Fe Government with a tramway project for Rosario of great importance, and which we hope to see passed.

The Customs receipts of Rosario last month amounted to 335,000 pats, which shows well for Rosario.

The Diario telegram from Bahia Blanca announces the clearance of the Barque Catherine D., direct for Bremen, with 1039 bales wool; the first vessel that has ever cleared direct with produce from Bahia Blanca for Europe; we are astonished that our talented colleague did not devote one of his able salty leaders to an event of such importance for the country. Mr Edward Guiraud, barraquero, Bahia Blanca, has the honor to be the shipper, he certainly merits a premium for being the first shipper, and from the tip-top of the Sierra de la Ventana we demand of the National Government 4 square leagues Rio Negro land for this go-ahead French barraquero. The Toro left yesterday for Patagones, and the Loire is expected up from there in these days.

The very sharp article in to-day's Figaro on the Provincial and National Banks was read through and through by every broker on the Bolsa. Our colleague seems, however, to forget that the circuit of the market is small, and that paper money runs round so fast that it comes back to the banks within the week. The Provincial and National Banks exchange notes twice a week, and whichever bank has the largest amount of notes out must bear the brunt of the exchange. The Provincial bank has notes in circulation, one way or the other, amounting to fifty millions Nat. dollars, and the National Bank has but 16½ millions out, the burthen of the exchange or clearance office should therefore be on the Provincial Bank, yet according to the Figaro it would seem the other way.

Mr. Trelles leaves on Monday in the ss. Porteña for Europe. He goes to negotiate the new Entre Riano Railway, and in April Mr. Lucas Gonzalez follows.

Mr. Anderson who has arrived up from Tandil, was welcomed on 'Change. He reports the place down there most delightful, and no more agreeable "paseo" to be had in the country.

Cattle continue freely offered on all sides. They say that on the new estancias such has been the great increase within the last two years, that now there is no more room for the cows, and even outsiders must either buy more land or sell off some of the stock. A good sign for the country.

Exchange ruled brisk enough to-day, and a good amount in sterling passed at 47⅞ to 9/16. One broker reports about £50,000 done, so the amount passed for the Pacific mail was considerable. In francs more bills offering at 5.05 and 4 on Antwerp, 5.01 and 2 on Paris drawers, and we heard of bills on Antwerp this afternoon at 5.05.

With pleasure we announce that Mr Frank Parish, chairman of B. A Great Southern Railway, left England in Minho for the Plate on 25th ult., he comes to inaugurate the Bahia Blanca Railway.

Captain Gillies, commander of the R.M.S. Neva, was welcomed on 'Change, he sails on the 5th. Mr Spring, Dr Leeson and some others leave in her.

Mr Fisher, manager of the Central Argentine Railway, leaves this afternoon for Rosario; he reports traffic on his Railway excellent, and now they have got 5 new locomotives.

At aft rhours about 500 shares sold for end of month at 125½ sellers, and Cedulas buoyant at 87⅞; nothing sold.

Money ruled abundant in the market to-day, and large payments made on the tables for produce; we hear of two important wool sales made outside, one by a barraca at Azul and the other at Las Flores; price reserved.

Mr. Learmouth with some friends, we hear, take a run down to the South. They will probably go to Bahia Blanca, and then take a look at the North camps. With much pleasure we learn that our Australian and New Zealand visitors are favourably impressed with the country. We hope to see them all investing out here and making plenty of money. We want our countrymen from Australia and New Zealand to come and settle out here, to reform our wool trade, and feed all Europe with River Plate mutton.

Wheat rules very weak, owing to bad news from Europe and a superabundant harvest. We hear of two more failures in Antwerp, both wheat firms.

Freights present no alteration; and, although we are at the height of our export trade, bales are shipping at 15 francs, which for steamers is very low; but the port is crowded with steamers, and there seems little prospect of any improvement.

Yesterday a cargo of damaged River Plate maize was sold by auction for Montevideo for $2 per fanega, the tramway people bought up all the corn for their horses; 300 fanegas good maize sold in Montevideo at 2.30 per 9 ar. Several sales of jerked beef in the rivers reported.

Exchange on Buenos Aires fell yesterday in Montevideo to 1⅝.

People living in England who have camps in the Plate are beginning to have a better opinion of their River Plate properties; we mentioned the other day where an English officer residing in England received an offer by telegram of $210,000 % per league for his land in Loreto and refused it. To-day we heard of a similar case where a party residing in Manchester declined $300,000 % for land in the partido Pringles. Several parties have written to us of late from Dublin and other points with a view to investing in land out here, but our advice to them always is first to come out, and visit the Plate, have a look at the camp, and then, if they are pleased, make their purchases.

Messers. Joseph Attwell and Bros., ('The Phenix' Agency) have effected the following sales of lots in La Plata during the month of February:—

The sale of 1,000 picked Lincoln sheep, partido Lobos, at $80 % each is reported; buyer, Mr. E. Gahan.

The present stock on Curumalan is, we are informed:—

60,000 head, cows

200,000 sheep

30,000 mares

Five years ago there was not a cow on the land. This shows how the camps are being stocked.

The following is an important table of the saladero killing up to date; it will be seen that the total killing for the present faena is considerably ahead of the same time for the three last years. The killing in this Province is, however, under the mark, and this notwithstanding that we never before had such a supply of fat novillos on the estancias:—

We mentioned the other day that there were certain hitches about our loans, that had to be arranged here, and the following order in Council issued by the National Government defining Art. 5 of the City Improvement Act, removes one great hitch about the City Improvement Loan. "The Syndicate that have undertaken the issue of the City Improvement Works Loan, authorised by Act of Congress of the 14th January 1882, having set forth that the wording of Art. 5 of the said Act leaves it open to doubt whether, when the ten years during which the amortization fund can not be changed have expired, the said fund may not be reduced below the one per cent which Art. 1 establishes as the rate of accumulative amortization: And, furthermore, considering, that although the Government does not feel bound to enlarge on the subject, or take any notice of remarks made on points which, although perfectly clear, might be discussed and explained previous to the signing of the contract, but not after, or now when time has elapsed and the said contract is in process of fulfilment: Nevertheless, to avoid, on its part, all impediment to the success of the operation, and give further proof of its good will, it is open to it, in the exercise of its faculties, to define the meaning of the Article in question and the interpretation of it which led it to approve of the proposal of Messrs Bemberg, Heimendahl & Co. representatives of the Syndicate, and to sign the contract. In a General Cabinet Council it is, therefore, declared: That the meaning which the Government has attached and still attaches to Art 5, and under which it has contracted and is bound, is, that the Amortization Fund established by Art. 5 cannot at anytime, either before or after the expiration of the ten years specified in said Art. 5, be reduced below one per cent per annum, accumulative, until the total extinction of the Debt.

There is a howl in Public School circles about German being substituted for Greek in the course of studies. We have a weakness for the superb old tongue of Homer, but wont enter the controversy. German is, undoubtedly, more practically useful just now. A colleague says that out of every thousand students in our Colleges only one or two have a weak smattering of Greek. We fully believe it.

At San Isidro, a young girl named Lopez has gone raving mad owing to a young fellow who aspired to her hand having suddenly ceased his attentions.

The "caso sospechoso" of cholera in Calle Tucuman, a fortnight ago, is now proved by the post-mortem examination to have been a case of poisoning, just as Drs. Peacan and Murphy suspected it was from the first. The man ate some of the cheap pastry sold in the streets, and a lot of arsenic was found in his stomach. This gives the public a pretty conclusive idea of the nourishing qualities of street-sold pastry.

At a legal investigation of a liquor seizure the judge asked an unwilling witness, "What was in the barrel that you had?" The Passionist Fathers have been invited to give a mission at La Chosa, in the partido of Lujan, and have made arrangements to open the Mission on Sunday, the 9th of March.

This mission is to be followed soon after by one at Marcos Paz. By the enforcement of the new priests, whose arrival was recently announced in this paper, the Passionist Fathers are now enabled to begin anew their missionary labors. They enter upon their work with ardent hopes of success, and are ready and anxious to labor wheresoever a door may be opened to them.

Present

Dear Sirs,

At a fire that occurred lately in Cordoba station, when a large pile of sleepers was set on fire by the shunting engine, the 'Rapid' fire Extinguishers supplied by you did most valuable service, and it was through their excellent work that the company was saved from a loss of 50 to 60,000 dollars.

I herewith enclose an order for four more.

Yours faithfully
